Environmental Responsibility Policy

Accenture is committed to incorporating leading environmental practices into its business operations. Accenture's objectives include:

- Fostering environmental awareness and responsibility among Accenture's stakeholders, including employees, contractors, suppliers, vendors and clients.
- Identifying environmental aspects associated with Accenture's operations, and implementing a continuous improvement program to reduce our own environmental impacts where possible.
- Conducting operations in a manner that aims to prevent pollution, helps minimize Accenture's consumption of natural resources and manages waste through responsible re-use, recycling and disposal of materials, where commercially and practically feasible.
- Considering environmental factors in Accenture's procurement processes when purchasing goods and services.
- Addressing environmental concerns and taking into account environmental standards during real estate / office premises refitting and development.
- Complying with applicable legal and other requirements in the management of our operations.
- Monitoring and reviewing objectives and targets to ensure they remain appropriate and achievable.

Employees are expected to understand these practices and support Accenture in executing them.
