

How M&A is Reshaping the Chemical Industry

Video Transcript

Mergers and acquisitions are common in the chemical industry.

But deals are evolving.

M&A stands as a powerful tool to manage change and strategically reshape businesses.

Several factors are at play: segment consolidation, portfolio extension, regional expansion and more.

Private equity is active, moving into larger deals.

And reducing GHG emissions is emerging as a key consideration.

The face of M&A in chemicals is changing.

Are you ready?

Copyright © 2022 Accenture. All rights reserved. Accenture and its logo are registered trademarks of Accenture.