

A large, stylized green chevron graphic pointing to the right, composed of two parallel lines that converge at the tip. The text "High performance. Delivered." is centered within the chevron.

High performance. Delivered.

The Accenture SaaS Academy for Workday

Video Transcript

In the fast-moving Workday ecosystem, clients expect more than just technology solutions. They expect end-to-end services and an ally who:

provides professional advice to help them make the right decisions for their organization...

One who facilitates collaboration to move quickly and "at pace"

And delivers with rigor and discipline, resulting in consistent, predictable outcomes.

The Result? Nimble, flexible, and scalable Workday solutions to help organizations run faster, smarter and more efficiently than ever before.

The Accenture SaaS Academy for Workday prepares our people to do just that.

It's an intensive five-day course that helps our professionals rise and shine... which, in turn, helps our clients to do the same.

At the Academy, we emulate a real project from mobilization through deployment. Preparing our teams to confirm and align on client expectations... Navigating common delivery pitfalls... Consistently executing our methodology for Workday.

And forming connections with our global delivery resources -- the most powerful asset we bring to our clients.

The Accenture SaaS Academy for Workday is an investment in our people... but it is ultimately an investment in our clients – and their success.

Because to put our clients first, we put our people first...

...enabling them with the strategic insight and a proven, repeatable approach to delivering excellence.

Together, we can create something extraordinary – every Workday.