Finance & Risk Services Video

Financial services executives face extraordinary challenges related to profitability, complexity and new regulations in an uncertain economic environment – an environment we refer to as one of “permanent volatility”.

Accenture Finance and Risk Services can help clients connect, integrate, and transform these two critical business functions; positioning them as capabilities to enable long-term, sustainable growth.

We recognize that both Finance and Risk are critical enablers of the future operating model for banks and insurers.

Through the effective integration of finance and risk operations across the organization we deliver the technology architectures and data management systems necessary for enhancing forecasting and analytics capabilities and turning these critical functions into competitive differentiators.

We help with transformation journeys along varied paths:

- Developing a clear vision of the desired future state.
- Bringing specific skills and expertise into the project to design and lead the change
- Leveraging our global network to stay informed and ahead of the curve throughout the implementation

We are currently working with many of the leading Financial Services companies in the Fortune Global 500 including 10 of the top 15 banks, 8 of the top 10 insurers and the top 8 capital markets companies globally.

Our finance and risk professionals provide our clients, across the globe, with the right skills and industry expertise to deliver management consulting, technology and business process outsourcing services with greater reliability, quality and productivity.

In Australia, we are helping a bank establish a shared service center for Finance and Accounting to enable them to both reduce annual operating costs and also improve their ability to consistently report across Finance and Risk.

In Latin America, a Brazilian Bank chose us to help them transform their Finance and Risk Management functions to better address the challenges of regulation and position the bank for future growth opportunities.

In Europe we are helping design and implement the relevant infrastructures for a number of European banks to ensure Basel III compliance. We are working with a leading Insurer to optimize its finance function, creating an operating model that is agile and flexible, and helping another respond to the volume of Solvency II regulations in a cost-effective manner.

To help reduce duplication and complexity in their business operations we were asked to partner with a North American insurer on its enterprise finance transformation journey.

We are rolling out a new, more efficient operating model for an investment bank that will transform its risk data and metrics capabilities to deliver better business insights, and implementing a credit risk model to monitor standards for another large North American bank.
