

ACCENTURE IN YOUR DAY

VIDEO TRANSCRIPT

Did you know that Accenture powers millions of lives every day—including yours? From the time your day starts, we're with you when it matters most.

We work with Nespresso to personalize their offering, kicking your day into gear just the way you like it.

Our work with Adidas helped take their miCoach personal trainer from the Web to your wrist so you can keep track of your progress.

We worked with the government of Ontario in Canada to develop a contactless payment system across the bus and rail services, hoping you'd be on time for classes with just a couple of swipes.

We are helping shape an environment based on collaborative teams, idea exchange and greater innovation.

From your table to your TV, we've worked with industry leaders such as Discovery Networks and National Geographic to bring you images and experiences that inspire.

We're helping the publishing world go digital, partnering with Harper Collins to deliver e-books that take you to another world.

We will be with you until your dreams begin.

This is Accenture in your day; come be part of ours.
