

MEET THE FUTURE WORKFORCE

VIDEO TRANSCRIPT

Remember the old days of getting an idea to market?

In the digital enterprise, that all changes. Walls break down, increasing responsiveness and speed to market.

Collaboration occurs across functions, and across the entire ecosystem, driving competitive advantage.

Working in this new way depends on the right workforce formula.

What is the right formula for your business?

And how do you earn your share of the best talent available?

We are in a talent transformation, called the fourth Industrial Revolution. It is changing the workforce at exponential speed.

So how do you keep up?

How do you define the talent strategy necessary to win in that area?

- Plan for a wise pivot to automation.
- Win the talent you want by creating the experience they seek.
- Get the skills you will need.
- And make the best of talent ecosystems: creating rules, pools and tools.

Adjust to get the right combination and enjoy success...

A workforce made up of talent that is faster, smarter and ready to unleash their potential...

So that you may achieve yours.

It's time to shed the old ways of working...

And step into the future—Now.
