SAP

Video Transcript

One of the keys to our success in the SAP space is that we've got such a vibrant community of SAP experts that have long-term relationships with clients.

It's not unusual that our clients continue to seek our services through all phases of the SAP lifecycle from the first deployment through the extensions and upgrades.

That's because our people are dedicated to bringing the next-generation of solutions that enable clients to address business matters with speed, flexibility, and high performance.

We're looking for people with experience in functional or technical SAP modules. People with proven academic excellence with a track record of success in SAP projects. An applicant must be both a team player and leader, who can communicate ideas. Definitely someone who thrives in a technology environment.

If you look at it, the numbers speak for themselves:

Our SAP network has about 38,000 professionals worldwide. We have about 1,300 clients on more than 1,500 projects every year. Add to that our 25 SAP Pinnacle Awards since 2002, our exclusive access to SAP's online Global Master Curriculum, and our thirty-year relationship with SAP.
