Meet Devon

My senior year of high school, my Spanish class took a trip to Cancun and one of the activities was to go snorkeling. Your first thought is, no that sounds scary. I went for it, I conquered that fear, it was beautiful.

So I applied that to my role, I'm currently working on a SAP support project. Day to day I never know what challenges I'm going to face, but I'm able to get to the other side and get to a solution for my customer.

Be yourself, make a difference.
