Question: Hi Veronika, we are curious. Running or dancing?

Veronika: Dancing it's the perfect combination of discipline, collaboration, keeping fit and most importantly... it's joyful. I have been a member of professional ensembles for more than 8 years and I still do practice often in Brussels. And I dance Tango as well from time to time.

Question: Life changing event?

Veronika: My Erasmus exchange in France, it opened a completely new chapter in my life. It teaches me to experience and not fear new challenges.

Question: What is your expertise at Accenture?

Veronika: Application Development and Software Architecture. I'm interested in all the software life cycles phases, from the requirement gathering at the client side, analysis design, delivery to the final integration.

Question: What are the reactions?

Veronika: People are actually still surprised that I can do programming.

Question: What has helped you most in your career?

Veronika: Not fearing any challenges, change or being the different one. I always focus on being the best I could possibly be. I never believe I could or I couldn't do something just because I'm a woman.

Question: Technology is...

Veronika: Everywhere. For me it's as fundamental as knowing your alphabet. And it's extremely important to keep people up to date with technologies and all the trending topics. And we should not forget as well to welcome women in this world because diversity enriches the final result.
