

ACCENTURE | SOMETHING BIGGER

VIDEO TRANSCRIPT

One of the best things about Accenture is its corporate citizenship.

Niagara is a very small community, and Accenture is very hands on in helping out with the community that we live in.

I've never worked at a company that was so focused on giving back.

Everything from Shoe Boxes, to Gillian's Place, food drives.

The Shoe Box Project is building shoe boxes filled with gifts for Gillian's Place, which is a local charity in Niagara. It's a box filled with luxuries for women that will just make them feel special.

It's very important for a large company like Accenture to become involved. We have the integrity, and we have the corporate citizenship behind us.

It definitely does make me proud to know that I work for a company that loves giving back to the community.

You don't have to be here very long before you feel invested, and you want to be a part of that. It's just a good feeling.
