Saswat Kumar Swain | Leading in the new

Video Transcript

I am Saswat Kumar Swain from Bhubaneswar. I am an Associate Manager in Accenture. I play the role of Technology Architect for one of the largest brands in Europe in their digital marketing and commerce platform. It's better we stick to Saswat's response on the client identification.

I joined Accenture in 2006. In these 12 years I have handled multiple roles. The major turning point in my life was my first trip abroad with Accenture when I was 27. This experience helped me discover myself.

A friend (colleague?) introduced me to photography around this time. I learned that the camera is a great tool which helps you see life in a unique way. I think mentioning a friend is better than mentioning colleague, I like the emotional aspect it brings. Photography is a perfect combination of technology and creativity... just like my work at Accenture. My philosophy is of self-acceptance and being compassionate with our own selves. I was born with a condition called Osteogenesis imperfecta. It impacts the development of bones. In fact my father used to physically carry me everywhere – right through my childhood until my initial working days

My parents, my sister and my friends ensured that I don't compromise on leading a full life. And I pursued what my heart desired. It's a constant challenge to be a better version of our own selves. Everyone has their own demons to fight. So I never compare myself to anyone else. My journey is unique and my own.
