

COOLEST JOB EVER MEET SAGE

VIDEO TRANSCRIPT

Hi my name is Sage Ingram and I'm a Security Consulting Analyst with Accenture. I've been here since April, I'm in the beautiful city of San Francisco, working today remotely for my client who is usually in Chicago, but I get to spend the lunch and the day in Salesforce Park, a beautiful perk of working for Accenture.

So my favorite thing about Accenture really is the best people and how people enable you, even as an analyst to take on significant challenges and work that may not be in your realm but people are confident in you to complete and take on and drive and own.

Right now I'm working in Robotic Process Automation in our Security practice and I've been able to design, drive and help other developers build out these robots that will help automate a lot of our processes that are being manually handled right now.

So one really cool thing that I just got back from last week was a training that I got to go to in Dublin, Ireland for the digital identity practice within Accenture Security. I met people from all over Europe who work for Accenture – who are awesome – and I really got hands-on experience with labs and just understanding what our clients want and need moving in to the future. It's something that I signed up for and I got into not really expecting it. And Accenture does foster, you know, making sure that you have the best training, the best resources and sometimes you know the opportunity to go overseas.
