VIDEO TRANSCRIPT

- Speaker 1: Hi.
- Speaker 2: Woo!
- Speaker 1: That's what we're after. Some enthusiasm!
- Speaker 2: Where are you all from, guys?
- Speaker 3: Chicago!
- Speaker 4: Chicago!
- Speaker 2: All right. You came a long way.
- Speaker 5: [inaudible 00:00:35], baby. Go KU.
- Speaker 6: Missouri Science and Technology! Old school.
- Speaker 7: Hi!
- Speaker 8: Welcome, to our 2019 Student Leadership Conference. I am so exceptionally excited to have you guys here.
- Speaker 8: I challenge each of you, to not just let this be a fun gathering. Let this not just be an opportunity to learn more about
- Accenture, but let this also be an opportunity for you to connect with the individuals, and make some strong connections that will stay with you.
- Speaker 9: We're really seeing just the tip of the iceberg of what Accenture has to offer, and it's exciting to know that there's so much more.
- Speaker 8: You're going to have an opportunity to meet several of our wonderful Accenture managing directors and other executives who are here.
- Speaker 10: There are over 500 of us here, and we're all united under this one cause, Accenture, and it just feels like we're working towards something big.
- Speaker 11: So we're two Ivy League football players. He goes to Princeton and I go to Cornell, and we're sworn enemies during the season, we hate each other. But now we work together, so we're boys now.

Speaker 2: Aw, you getting this pairing? This is what Accenture has done, it's brought you two together.

Speaker 12: Yeah.

Speaker 11: It brought us together.

Speaker 12: We pivoted to the new.

Speaker 13: For the team building activity, everyone is trying to break the initial barriers of not knowing each other.

Speaker 14: Whether it was jumping through hoops or trying to balance a queue, this was really cool to learn more about others. but then also about myself.

Speaker 15: Last night we played a game called Desert Island, where we basically divided up into three different islands. One island was blindfolded, one island couldn't talk.

Speaker 2: Do you know why you're blindfolded?

Speaker 16: Top secret.

Speaker 17: We have no idea.

Speaker 18: We're supposed to throw ball.

Speaker 2: Do you know where the can is?

Speaker 18: No idea.

Speaker 17: I have a clue.

Speaker 16: I have instructions, but if I told you then I'd have to ...

Speaker 19: [inaudible 00:02:29]!

Speaker 20: I had a No Barriers Pledge, and that was to kayak the Grand Canyon, 277 miles. Sometimes we want to prove to ourselves in the world that we can do things, but in a way, it's to break out of these prisons that we so often find ourselves in.

Speaker 21: The last speaker, Eric, was absolutely moving, extremely powerful. One of the most powerful presentations I've ever heard.

Speaker 22: The technology footprint and how you interact with this new, crazy, digital world is going to be increasingly important as people try to create new experiences, new products, new ways of interacting.

Speaker 23: It's always new. It's always changing. You can innovate something that's already there. You can lead something that's already there. But you can't discover something that's already there, you're finding something new.

Speaker 2: Can you tell me what is it you're painting?

Speaker 24: It's abstracts, inspired by Kandinsky.

Speaker 2: It goes without saying.

Speaker 24: Exactly.

Speaker 25: I made that all up.

Speaker 2: And yours looks like a tree.

Speaker 25: That's exactly what it is.

Speaker 2: What's the thinking behind the design of this car?

Speaker 26: Cheat.

Speaker 2: Feel confident?

Speaker 27: I feel very confident.

Group: Woo!

Speaker 14: If I could describe the conference in one word, I would say, "Insightful."

Speaker 29: Electrifying.

Speaker 23: Inspiring.

Speaker 13: Innovative, innovative, innovative.

Speaker 30: Communication.

Speaker 31: Fun.

Speaker 9: Passionate.

Speaker 32: Electric.

Speaker 33: Extravagant.

Speaker 34: To be determined. I have no idea what's coming up, so TBD.

Speaker 35: This is my first interview ever!

Speaker 2: Well, congratulations, I hope it goes well for you.

Speaker 35: Thank you very much.

Speaker 36: Oh!

Speaker 37: (singing)

Speaker 35: Talking to senior leadership of Accenture, all in one spot over three days, it's very unique. To anyone considering it, it's a really great opportunity. It's amazing!
