

CONSULTING ANALYST PROGRAM

VIDEO TRANSCRIPT

Loong Sheng: I think the Consulting Analyst Program (CAP) has definitely given Analysts a voice – visibility is one of the key points I would put out there, to make me feel more included, heard and engaged with as an employee. It makes me feel like it's a fun and dynamic environment – I think I want to grow my career here.

At the moment, I'm tied to a process and data restoration project under Resources industry. I really hope that I can bring some of the skills and things that I've learned from this project to perhaps Financial Services industry.

Zi Jun: I think this program will really allow us to gain a wide breadth of different experiences and gather new skillsets across industries and across functional roles.

Personally, for me it's about seeing how my peers and I can grow as Consultants and Analysts in this program, how we can develop skillsets that may have been previously limited to a certain function or industry – to now being able to grow and deliver value in whatever project we are in.

To summarize that, it's really about the personal growth and how we're able to be adaptable.
