

AT THE HEART OF EVERY GREAT CHANGE IS A GREAT HUMAN

Matthew Cosgriff
Software Engineering Analyst

I'm Matt, I'm an analyst at Accenture and I work out of the Sydney office. Outside of work, I'm all about my friends, my family, I love sport and I love cooking.

I studied at University of Sydney, I did a Bachelor of Science majoring in human anatomy and animal biology. So I have a weird love of science and all things animals. Things that you wouldn't generally put together with sort of a consultancy degree.

I love working at the intersection between humans and technology. I recently had an opportunity to work on a project where I got to combine my passion for human experience and human behaviour with technology and innovation. Every problem that we had, we tapped into a global network, and we were able to solve it incredibly easily and very quickly.

I'm surrounded every single day by people that challenge me, that excite me. I'm surrounded by people who you to succeed and also pull you when you don't.

I'm not sure what the future looks like for me at Accenture, I could be working for a bank for a mining firm for a hospital or even a government agency, I have no idea where I'll be in five years and that's incredibly exciting.

If you want to make a change. I absolutely believe Accenture is the company for you. Come work at the heart of change.
