Niña:

Funny memes.

Question:

Where did your Accenture career start?

Niña:

In the Philippines.

Question:

Where are you currently based?

Niña:

Luxembourg (laughing).

Question:

Why Accenture?

Niña:

It's a global company and you can connect with people all over the world.

Question:

A message for other women who consider a technology career?

Niña:

Technology is starting to touch every domain as we speak, whether it's fashion, food or software. I would say that it's a great place to build a career.

Question:

How does your job make you happy?

Niña:

The constant learning and being surrounded by people with a good mindset. I also enjoy inspiring people and being a mentor for them.

Question:

What are your greatest passions?

Niña:

Music and nature. Music because it has been my passion since childhood. I've been participating in choirs and playing in a band. Nature because I like being in touch with mother nature. Especially in higher places and seeing the scenery and panoramic view.

Question:

Could you sing for us?
