

MEET THE MINDS. THOMAS FORGIONE

VIDEO TRANSCRIPT

I'm Tom, I'm a business and technology integration analyst, and I'm an action mind type.

An action mind-set for me is going and chasing something, rather than waiting around and procrastinating, you go and get the opportunity. I've got a mentor, which I speak to on a weekly basis, I've also got a career counsellor who pushes me forward.

Every day I'm getting closer to my goals. I think in 2018 I came up with an idea to start an initiative which would bring the client together with our consultants at Accenture.

My idea started from doing a triathlon with the client, which was a great experience. We went to the ExCel Arena in London.

The social aspect is there but that helps us work as one big team.
