

Soaring to superior sales & production with AWS

Video Transcript

For a major chemical company maximizing the power of cloud was key to boosting production efficiency and energizing the customer experience.

A streamlined order to manufacturing process, a real time view of inventory and IoT truck weight scale to enable order accuracy, delivered by Accenture and AWS with real time integration with SAP.

Leveraging modern cloud technologies and devops practices, the new technology landscape is breaking down walls.

The company can now generate accurate customer quotations in real time.

The new solution is also improving sales by reducing the order process from weeks to just hours.

By using cloud, the client is redefining its manufacturing and customer experience model, positioning itself as an industry leader in the fast-paced global chemicals market.