Ransomware Response and Recovery

Feeling under threat?

Your day is difficult enough without having to deal with a ransomware demand.

Ransomware operators have upped their game: data leak extortion = >60% of intrusions.

The pandemic opened a new door to vulnerabilities: phishing, remote access.

With a 160% year-on-year increase in ransomware events in 2020 it’s easier than ever to disrupt your business: average operational downtime at 12 days.

Ransom demands up to US$50M and with high-cost demands and threats to your company’s reputation, you need to move fast.

Here’s how to get started:

• Focus on the basics of security hygiene
• Prevent and protect by training and testing

• Know your operations: how to restore critical data, quickly
• Make it personal: collaborate so everyone knows how to work together
• Prepare, prepare and prepare again: be ready for the bad times

Are you ready?

Do you have robust processes?

Do you have training and coordination across your business value chain?

Find out what you can do, now and next to be more resilient to ransomware.

Improve your ransomware response and recovery today.

Find out more at www.accenture.com/ransomware

Copyright © 2021 Accenture. All rights reserved. Accenture and its logo are trademarks of Accenture.