

Accenture Insurance Underwriting Processes

VIDEO TRANSCRIPT

Core processes for insurance underwriting have a lot of moving parts and are highly complex.

In today's fast paced world, it's necessary for underwriting that streamlines processes and delivers faster, higher-quality policy quotes and better experiences for customers and partners.

Moving to a future-ready operating model—powered by Accenture's SynOps—will help bring this vision to life.

And it starts with having the right tools in place that enable digitization, efficient workflows, data integration, and contextual insights -- reducing human intervention by 20-25%.

Our Intelligent Case Advisor is a patented AI-Powered solution that classifies and extracts information from emails and attachments and feeds it into a digital workflow.

Eliminating the need for manual trackers - freeing up your people for more interesting work - and improving the speed and accuracy of submission set-up. And setting the stage for future automation.

On the backend, our Policy Document Creator will identify, extract, and fulfill policy documents.

This new, intelligent approach to workflow and policy creation will further improve the speed, accuracy, quality, and efficiency for all of your underwriting services.

Paving the way for increased use of innovative technologies, data and talent.

And fast-tracking your business' journey to becoming the leader in global insurance underwriting.
