CIO Minutes: Mobile in a Minute with CIO Andrew Wilson

Andrew Wilson:

Mobility matters, today more than ever. With mobility, you and your people become faster... more flexible... innately responsive to changing markets, technologies and client needs.

The mobile enterprise is liberating employees from their desks, enabling them to work whenever and wherever their customers, clients and whole markets demand.

How? By equipping digital workers with mobile tools to work, learn, grow and have a bit of fun as well. We are adapting and extending technology platforms to be mobile-first.

Making Accenture mobile is happening today.

The mobile apps we are building and deploying help Accenture employees every moment of every day. They remove friction while raising productivity and making our lives easier at work and beyond.

As we grow our library of apps, teams are using mobile tools to find, connect, collaborate and share. Their ability to learn, grow and delivery at speed and scale is radically enhanced.

Across Accenture, we believe that we are well on the way toward building a fully mobile, digitally enabled global workforce.

The lessons we're learning now are helping our clients transform their companies as well.

Welcome to our mobile world. We hope you join Accenture on our journey to a mobile digital future.
