Accenture AWS Business Group & Avalon Healthcare Solutions

There are many pressures in the health insurance industry. There are a vast number of providers, payers, and patients all looking for the best outcome.
and relentless pressure to reduce costs.

Avalon Healthcare Solutions is looking for better ways in order to manage laboratory claims on behalf of health insurers This is particularly important, as lab new tests emerge.

Avalon knew that they needed a digital cloud based solution to be successful.
Avalon looked at Accenture's Insight Driven Health, and Accenture AWS Business Group in order to bring the right industry skills and technology experts to the table.

We sought out the help of Accenture, not only due to their deep subject matter expertise in technology and healthcare, but their ability to develop a robust solution that we knew we could take care of when they left.

Claims Editing As a Service offers real time advice to our health insurance clients in determining how a claim should be paid. Building in the cloud allowed us to quickly develop and scale our Claim Editor without incurring the cost that many claim companies face in building brick and mortar data centers.

It gives them a competitive advantage in the marketplace. And they are positioned for growth, scalability, flexibility and speed.

We process more than 25 thousand claims every day and we do them (snap) in less than a second. And an accuracy rate higher than 99%.

At Avalon, we're collecting a tremendous amount of data both claim data and clinical data. You can use it to provide better statistical analysis, use it to better understand lab tests and their effectiveness as well as manage costs.

I took a risk, with Avalon and Accenture but it's a risk that's paid off, a one of a kind solution. And the partnership we formed with Accenture and the AWS Business Group helped us quickly create a solution that met our needs, and met our timeline. Accenture and Avalon Health Services worked together to have the solution up and running in less than a year.

What's important here is not only that we rein in costs but that we insure that patients have access to quality, affordable health care, ultimately, allowing them to lead healthier and better lives.

We found real value in partnering with Accenture.
