The New York City Tech Ecosystem is Hiring

Organizations are planning to increase tech hires in 2018:
- 83% say they plan to increase
- 50% are confident or very confident they can find the tech talent they need in NYC.

Tech talent availability impacts innovation:
- 49% say they will not be able to innovate at the same pace if they cannot find the talent they need.

Artificial intelligence is top of mind:
- 43% say AI is a hiring priority in 2018
- 31% expect to have difficulty finding the AI skills they need.

What attracts tech talent to live in New York City?
- 89% say it's the diversity of people
- 80% say it's access to cultural institutions, entertainment, restaurants, and sports
- 74% say it's the diversity of industries

About the research study:
The Accenture study was conducted in Q3 2017 to assess how tech talent is attracted and retained in NYC. It included an online survey of 1,500 tech professionals and a 15-city analysis of NYC tech talent demand and supply.