My First Days: Jornel Torres

Jornel Torres: I chose to work at Accenture because of the immense breadth and depth of opportunity that exists within the firm. Accenture is a multinational company that serves clients across the world in a variety of sectors and the option value that exists there is pretty remarkable. I'd say in addition to that, Accenture is an incredibly dynamic firm. One that's very agile and innovative. So, in my first role at Accenture, I am mostly here to learn. To learn about my client, Accenture and its history and how Accenture thinks about serving clients. Every day I am looking for ways to strengthen my existing skill set and add new ones.
