

DOCTORS SAVE LIVES—THIS TECHNOLOGIST DOES TOO

VIDEO TRANSCRIPT

MALEK BEN SALEM, Senior Principal, Accenture Labs

I'm worried about the break of digital trust. A lot of the things we do today are done online.

We make payments online. We buy things online. We submit our tax returns online. If we lose that trust, it means basically losing that digital economy.

At Accenture Labs, I'm working on cybersecurity, which is a key pillar of digital trust.

I encountered technology and computers much later on in my life, but they changed my career. And here I am, doing state-of-the-art work that is so critical to protecting the global economy.
