

Accenture Adelaide Hub

[Steven Marshall, Premier of South Australia]

I think a lot of companies around the entire country and around the region will be sitting up, taking notice that Accenture has decided to invest here.

[Bob Easton, Chairman of Accenture Australia and New Zealand]

The Accenture Adelaide Hub will offer Australian organisations access to a high quality, local labour force, combined with Accenture's leading capabilities in Intelligent Operations, Advanced Technologies and Cyber Security.

[Steven Marshall]

My aim as Premier of South Australia is to keep as many of our best and brightest students right here in South Australia. This deal with Accenture will do a lot to create those pathways through universities into quality jobs right here in South Australia.

[Bob Easton]

As we ramp up the hub over the next three to five years we focus in our new technology skills and areas such as cyber security and automation and industries such as Aerospace and Defence, Education, Health and this will create amazing opportunities for students, for graduates, for those wanting to re-train and for maybe people that want to re-enter the workforce.

[Steven Marshall]

This is going to be an amazing opportunity focused on these future industries and creating a pipeline of up to 2000 new jobs for South Australia.
