

Nearly all healthcare organizations have security policies or controls that prevent public cloud adoption.

Are there existing security policies or controls within your organization today that prevent material cloud adoption (private or public)?

