

ZSOFIE: SERVICENOW DEVELOPER

VIDEO TRANSCRIPT

Zsofie: Hi, my name is Zsofia. I studied Sociology at university, and I was specialized in the field of statistics and methodology. After finishing the university, I worked as a data analyst and data scientist, and I realized that I enjoy the most working with code and writing codes in Python.

So I started studying at Green Fox Academy in Prague and after that the opportunity came to join the Accenture. I know Accenture from Hungary already. Also, the Green Fox Academy helped us to know Accenture much better and learn about the possibilities here.

I'm on a project. On a pretty huge project, which has different areas and different teams work on these different areas. And my team works mostly related to CMDB tasks.

Working at Accenture, I like the most that they have a lot of different positions, so you can find what fits you the best. And they give you a good opportunity to learn and develop yourself. So if you are interested in something then they support you with different courses, our trainings and they can also help you improve your current knowledge.

My goal at Accenture is to get as much knowledge as possible right now in my current position because I have a lot to learn, but I can see the development from the moment I joined Accenture. Ideal candidate for the position I have should have basic knowledge of JavaScript because that's the language we use in ServiceNow.

But I think it's more important to be openminded, interested and curious about the new things. Don't be scared to start something new.
