

SHAJIDA'S STORY: MOVEMENT TO WORK

VIDEO TRANSCRIPT

I was in college for two years.

I did have a period of time where I felt pressure, being a girl and wanting to go into a field that was really male dominated.

I'd class myself as reserved before the Movement to Work programme came up.

We had to present in front of a few people; I was so nervous, but as soon as I stood in front of everyone, it flowed nicely.

We learnt how to master our CVs, we rotated within our groups for the project management role.

You learn quite a lot in just a few weeks.

It's changed my life.

It encouraged me to apply for the apprenticeship.

I went from college to actually working in the City, everyone just seems astonished that a 19-year-old is doing what I'm doing.

My parents are really, really proud of me.

It's nice to have someone in the family that's into technology and knows their gadgets.

I'm really happy.

My name is Shajida, and I'm a Technology Apprentice at Accenture.
