

INNOVATION SYMPOSIUM 2019 HIGHLIGHTS

VIDEO TRANSCRIPT

So many disparate ideas from 3D printed bridges through to literature through to financial crime and that richness of different thinking all going back to the underlying mathematical approaches but techniques which can be applied to multiple different areas of the business. I really enjoy getting to see. How some projects that I know people work on in theoretical and translate it into practical outcomes with the help of. What a day we brought together academia and industry to ideate on cutting edge concepts and research in the area of AI I got great feedback all sides in the next step now are to hopefully pilot some of these ideas and make them real.
