

SALESFORCE + ACCENTURE PARTNERSHIP ON SUSTAINABILITY “CONNECTIONS”

VIDEO TRANSCRIPT

The world is an infinitely complex place. Which can make the problems of the world feel insurmountable.

And so our challenges grow and no one individual feels powerful enough to solve them.

But no one individual IS responsible for solving them. Because no matter how complex our challenges are, they are all shared and interconnected.

Which means the solutions can be too – if we work together. Every business and every person in the entire world is a stakeholder in the same fight. The fight to save our environment.

The fight for the equitable treatment and inclusion of everyone. The fight to achieve true sustainability across every measure.

Not just a sustainable climate. A flourishing economy.

Thriving relationships. A healthier world. Salesforce and Accenture share a vision of business as a platform for change, building solutions to embed sustainability into the core of business.

With unrivaled technology, ingenuity, and years of experience helping businesses to adapt to change, we're joining forces so we can join forces with you. It's a massive challenge.

It's a world-changing opportunity. This is our moment. Let's seize it together.
