

Can Hispanic American and Latinx talent bring a competitive edge to new technologies?

VIDEO TRANSCRIPT

Omar Duque,
President, HITEC

It really is a competitive issue as an economy, as a country, that if we don't get this right, if we don't get more Hispanics into that talent pipeline for tech roles, our country and our economy is going to continue to lose its competitive edge globally. And that, to me, is a real big factor. That to me is the big why behind why we need to focus on this.
