

Insurers Continue their Strong Focus on Growth Despite Challenges

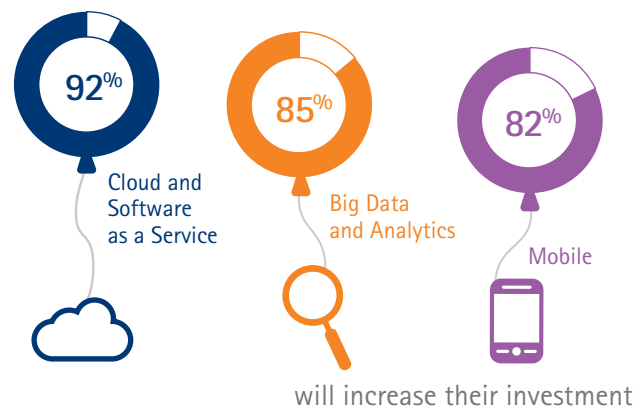

For surveyed senior finance executives from the insurance sector, three of top four challenges they face are complexity-based*

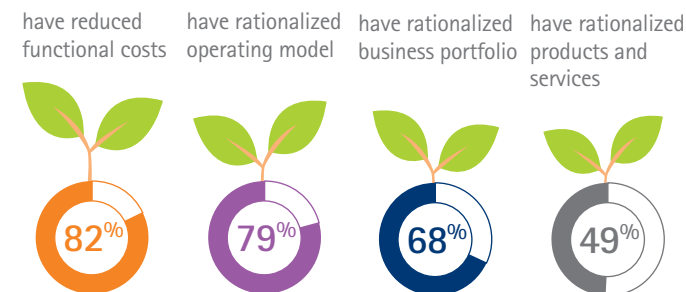

Digital technology is impacting the performance of surveyed finance functions...

...and insurers have strong intentions to invest in big data and analytics, mobile and especially cloud over the next two years*

Over the last two years, insurance respondents have shown strong success in initiating and completing projects that help support their growth aspirations...

and this is expected to continue over the next two years*
