

Video Transcript

Global Risk Management

A large, stylized teal chevron graphic pointing to the right, composed of two parallel lines that converge at the tip. The text "High performance. Delivered." is centered within the chevron.

High performance. Delivered.

Global Risk Management - Voiceover

Just imagine the business landscape for a moment.
Filled with untapped possibility – and unknown risk.

You're already looking for the opportunities ahead. But which direction will you choose?
And how can you evaluate the options?

Imagine if you could better prepare for what lies ahead.

Accenture's 2015 global research study helps navigate the future of risk, by identifying key priorities for the Banking, Capital Markets and Insurance businesses. And, with insights from risk masters, helps you rise above future challenges and convert tomorrow's potential into tangible financial advantage.

So what are the priorities?

Digital. Customers today no longer sleep. So where and how can you respond rapidly and with confidence?

Risk. Disruptive technologies, competition, regulation, volatility – opportunity is the flip side of every challenge, but decisions must be taken swiftly.

Expertize. The requirements of business are growing; will you develop new capabilities? Or recruit them?

Collaboration. As finance and risk functions change, how do you increase the value of these relationships?

Culture. How do you create a risk culture capable of withstanding disruptive change, focused on sustainable growth?

Analytics. Competitive business now converts key data into vital insights.
How sharp is your focus?

Now picture the new path for enterprise: designed for the digital journey.
Seeded with opportunity and potential. Informing, innovating and adapting.
Propelling your business forward... beyond the known horizon.

Determine your path to high performance with Accenture.