

FINANCE 2020: DEATH BY DIGITAL

The best thing that ever happened to your finance organization of traditional finance services will be delivered by cross functional integrated teams.

Staff productivity will increase by two to three times.

Costs will decline by 40 percent.¹

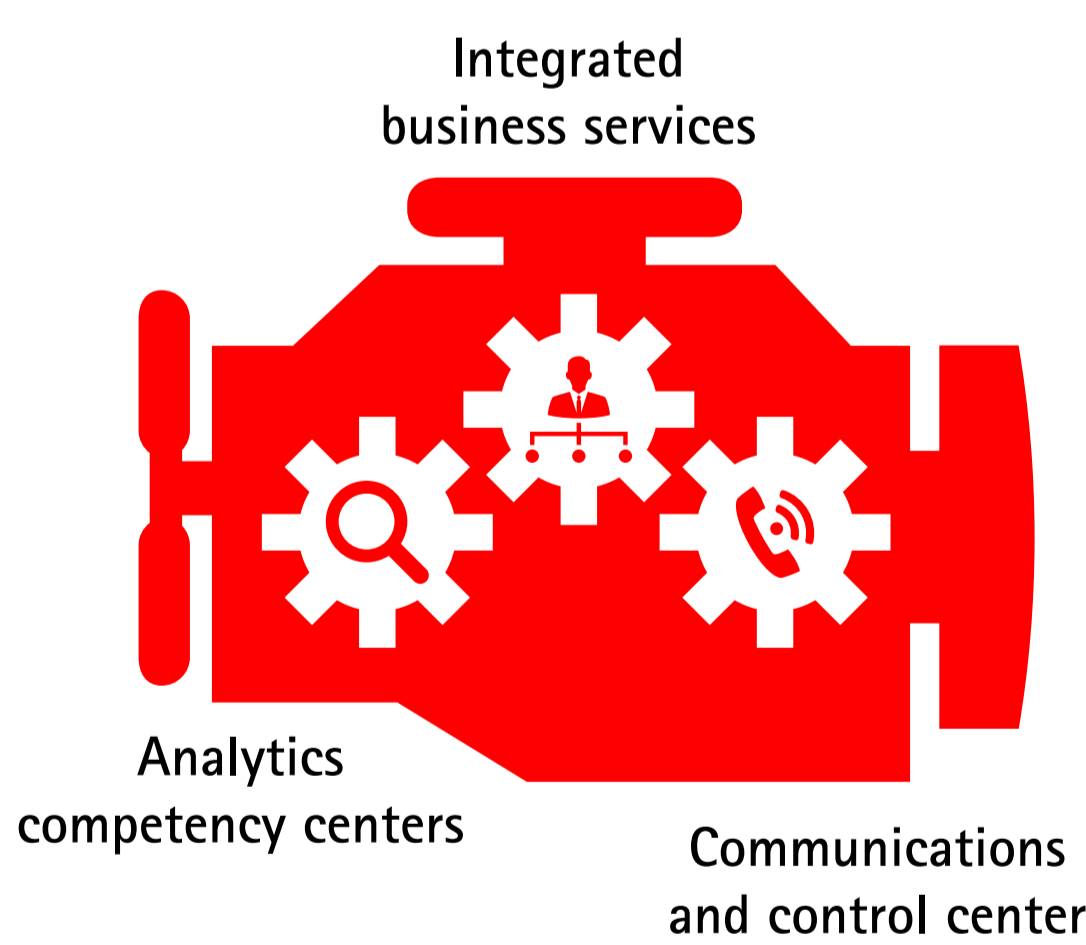

The demise of the traditional finance organization is here. Rising in its place: a revamped digital finance organization we call Finance 2020, and a radical new mindset that's powering business value.

At the core of this new approach: the CFO, whose role is shifting from cost authority to business value architect.

But to reap the benefits, CFOs will need to take action across three key areas:

First, your finance organization is exploding, and digital will reconfigure today's process-focused model into the insight engine for the business.

of CFOs say they plan to increase their investment in the cloud.²

Second, your complex legacy systems are gone, and cloud will take their place for reporting, planning, forecasting and analytics.

And third: your next hires will shock you, and include statisticians, data scientists, behavioral scientists, economists and even anthropologists.
