

INCLUSION & DIVERSITY IN THE U.S.

VIDEO TRANSCRIPT

Julie Sweet—Chief Executive Officer—North America

At Accenture, our commitment to inclusion and diversity starts at the top. We believe strongly that inclusion and diversity are essential for a high-performing, talent-led organization.

We take a wide view of diversity across abilities, age, ethnicity, gender, religion, sexual orientation and gender identity and expression. And quite simply, our diversity makes Accenture stronger, smarter and more innovative, which helps us better serve the needs of our clients, our people and our communities.

We need to find new ways to make an impact. Just as we focus on collaborating with our clients to help them win in the market, we need to collaborate and connect more as an entire community to drive the disruptive change we need. And by working together, I am convinced that we can become the most inclusive and diverse company in the United States.
