ACCENTURE AND FINASTRA FUSIONBANKING LOAN IQ

Capital markets firms today face increasing complexity and risk exposure from cross-asset class and derivatives trading. Now, more than ever, having integrated trading architectures will be critical to success.

That's where Accenture Trading Platforms comes in. We work with leading firms to transform their front, middle and back-office operations and risk management departments. A part of this business is dedicated to FusionBanking Loan IQ and other credit and trading platforms, and thus Accenture maintains close relationships with these vendors and has developed many custom solution accelerators around their products.

Finastra is the Accenture Preferred Global Alliance Partner for unified commercial lending with FusionBanking Loan IQ, which helps institutions grow, optimize and automate their lending lines of business quickly and strategically.

FusionBanking Loan IQ brings efficiency to all lending operations, from complex syndicated to high volume bilateral lending. Accenture provides consulting, system integration and application maintenance services around Finastra software solutions, namely FusionBanking Loan IQ.

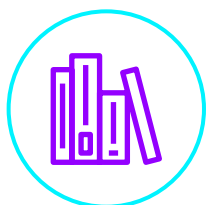

ACCENTURE

GLOBAL ALLIANCE PARTNER

Accenture is a Finastra Global Alliance Partner for systems integration, application outsourcing and release upgrades around FusionBanking Loan IQ. As a Premier Elite Partner in the Finastra InFusion Partner Program, Accenture offers clients faster time to value and competitive operating costs.

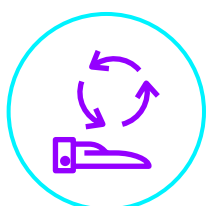

The Accenture/Finastra Global Alliance also covers other Finastra software, such as Finastra FusionCapital Summit, Finastra FusionCapital Kondor+, Finastra FusionCapital Opics, Finastra FusionInvest, Finastra FusionRisk Sophis and Finastra FusionBanking Trade Innovation (TI+), where Accenture and Finastra are global opportunistic partners.

EXTENSIVE EXPERIENCE WITH FUSIONBANKING LOAN IQ

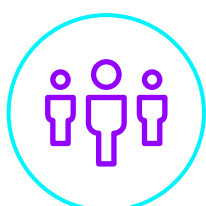

Accenture has extensive experience with FusionBanking Loan IQ—both on the business and the IT side. Apart from the business consulting activities in deriving target operating and process models for capital markets and credits area, Accenture has in-depth experience implementing FusionBanking Loan IQ across a broad range of asset classes (regular loans, specific lending such as aircraft or ship financing, project finance, syndicated loans and structured finance) as well as across all functional domains ranging from sales/distribution to front, middle and back-office and collateral management.

In Europe alone, Accenture has been the FusionBanking Loan IQ system integrator with the most exposure to the current FusionBanking Loan IQ release 7.x and its enhanced modules (e.g., collateral management) in the past four years.

SUPPORT ACROSS THE ENTIRE PROCESS VALUE CHAIN

Together with Finastra, Accenture's support typically covers the entire process value chain—from functional design to deployment and application maintenance. A specific focus lies on the functional design and the configuration and implementation of interfaces, namely for automatic transfer payments, confirmations and accounting data from FusionBanking Loan IQ to banks' legacy and cooperating transaction systems.

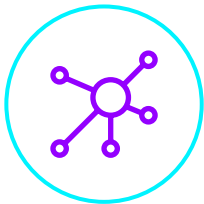

BRINGING TOGETHER MARKET LEADING SOLUTIONS AND INDUSTRY KNOWLEDGE

Accenture and Finastra bring together Finastra's market leading solutions (especially with regard to syndicated and structured credits) with Accenture's unparalleled industry knowledge, integration capabilities and service offerings.

BRINGING FINASTRA FUSIONBANKING LOAN IQ TO YOU

OUR FUSIONBANKING LOAN IQ SOLUTION ACCELERATORS

FusionBanking Loan IQ Estimator

Our estimation tool quickly estimates the amount of work needed for a specific FusionBanking Loan IQ implementation project. It also delivers a work plan and can help optimize the scope of a specific project with predefined FusionBanking Loan IQ tasks.

Data Migration Tool

Accenture's migration tool kit allows banks to extract data from various legacy systems, map it into the new FusionBanking Loan IQ target model, enrich the data to meet data quality requirements and then import it by means of standard tools into FusionBanking Loan IQ. Apart from assuring comprehensiveness, the use of the tool allows for an efficient and audit-proven repeatability of migration transactions.

Regression Testing Facilities

Accenture has also developed regression testing capabilities in its FusionBanking Loan IQ delivery center in Hyderabad, India. There, acting as a testing ally, Accenture created a framework to perform automated regression and performance testing. Additional testing of customizations and enhancements of the software are also performed out of the delivery center.
