

ACCENTURE | PROGRESSIVE CULTURE

VIDEO TRANSCRIPT

The workplace culture here is always striving to improve and to be your best.

The culture of Accenture and the delivery centre is one of innovation, and collaboration, and interaction.

We have a platform called We at Accenture that allows everybody to submit ideas, small or large, and have your ideas heard and implemented.

The support that I get from the leadership team is ongoing. It's great to have that kind of input from people that are on the ground floor, and then take those ideas and incorporate it into our standard practices.

With the previous employment that I have had, I would say this one is highly different because it gives you more chances, and more opportunities, for yourself to learn and grow.

We have a very open-door policy, where you can go in and speak to your team manager. This is an environment where people can bring their true selves to work and enjoy it.

It's fun. I actually look forward to going to work.
