By encouraging a mindset of responsible buying both inside and outside Accenture, we are helping generate long-term value for our clients, supplier partners and communities. Accenture is committed to upholding the highest ethical and professional standards consistent with our core values, and the Accenture Code of Business Ethics. Since 2008, we have been committed to the 10 Principles of the United Nations Global Compact, supporting its efforts to advance sustainability, equality and human rights. The relationship between Accenture and our suppliers is an important component to achieving our objectives as a responsible business as we help build supply chains that are more sustainable and inclusive in our business. Our Accenture Supplier Standards of Conduct, which supplement our Code of Business Ethics, set forth the standards and practices that Accenture suppliers are required to uphold.

Accenture is committed to helping its suppliers comply with these standards. In turn, Accenture expects its suppliers to apply these standards to their suppliers.

Thank you for your continued efforts and collaboration to adhere to our Supplier Standards of Conduct. Please direct all questions about these standards to: procurement.support@accenture.com

Stewardship

Accenture suppliers are conscious of their impact on the environment and strive to minimize negative impacts to preserve natural resources for future generations. At a minimum, Accenture suppliers comply with all applicable environmental laws and regulations, and consider additional environmental management on their most significant environmental aspects. This should include carbon reduction targets to mitigate impact on climate change and consideration for the principles of the circular economy in product design, manufacturing, recycling/disposal and waste management, where appropriate.

1.1 Comply with all applicable environmental laws
Accenture suppliers comply with all applicable environmental laws, regulations and standards.

1.2 Reduce negative environmental impact
Accenture suppliers commit to reducing their negative environmental impact and provide visibility to their progress toward this commitment. They encourage the development and use of environmentally friendly technologies and practices and the reduction of negative environmental impacts throughout their supply chain.

Best People

Accenture suppliers attract and develop the best talent for their business regardless of individual characteristics. They ensure that their employees take any required Accenture training.
2.1 Do not discriminate in employment or hiring practices
Accenture suppliers do not treat people differently or less favourably in relation to any hiring or employment decision because of characteristics that are not related to an individual’s contributions, skills or capabilities, or the inherent requirements of the job. Many local laws around the world prohibit discrimination against people on the basis of certain characteristics, including discrimination based on race, religion, age, gender, gender identity or expression, sexual orientation, nationality, social or ethnic origin, marital status, pregnancy, disability, HIV/AIDS status, political affiliation, or union membership. Accenture suppliers comply with all such laws against discrimination. In certain countries, local laws may require Accenture suppliers to, or may give Accenture suppliers the right to, protect or give priority to a particular category of people when taking certain hiring or employment decisions. Accenture suppliers comply with all such laws, which prevail in the relevant jurisdictions.

2.2 Complete Accenture required training
Accenture suppliers help their employees to comply with our Supplier Standards of Conduct by ensuring that supplier employees take Accenture provided training when required (for example, when they interact with Accenture’s clients or have access to data or facilities managed by Accenture or Accenture’s clients).

03

Client Value Creation
Accenture suppliers provide value for money and continually seek to improve their products and services.

3.1 Deliver quality and comply with terms and conditions of Accenture contracts
Following award of a contract, Accenture suppliers comply with all specifications, requirements and terms and conditions. They do not substitute a different product or service, or use others to support Accenture contracts, without appropriate prior approval.

3.2 Submit accurate proposals and invoices to Accenture
Accenture suppliers preparing proposals, bids or contract negotiations for Accenture and our clients must be certain that all statements, communications and representations are accurate and truthful. They maintain accurate books and records. Accenture suppliers submit accurate invoices and promptly correct any errors and provide Accenture with reasonable access to relevant business records and employees.
3.3 Ensure accessibility to Persons with Disabilities
Accenture suppliers must ensure that accessibility needs are included as part of their own procurement processes. Accenture suppliers who sell or license hardware, software, web, learning and information technology or offer technology solutions as part of their products and services must also ensure that all products, software and/or services that are provided to Accenture meet all relevant accessibility standards, including (but not limited to) Web Content Accessibility Guidelines 2.1 AA (WCAG 2.1 AA) or any update or revision to these Guidelines.

4.1 Comply with applicable competition laws
Accenture suppliers comply with competition laws wherever they do business. In particular, Accenture suppliers understand and comply with all applicable competition laws, including those related to teaming and information sharing with competitors (whether through joint ventures, alliances or other collaborations).

4.2 Comply with all applicable international trade controls
Accenture suppliers understand and comply with all applicable international trade controls (i.e., export controls, economic sanctions, and anti-boycott laws).

4.3 Comply with all applicable anti-money laundering and counter-terrorist financing laws
Accenture suppliers comply with anti-money laundering and counter-terrorist financing laws wherever they do business, and do not engage in or assist any third parties with these crimes.
4.4 Protect the privacy of personal information
Accenture suppliers protect personal privacy and comply with applicable privacy and data protection laws. They secure Accenture data, in accordance with Accenture provided standards, against unauthorized access and use, and do not re-use Accenture personal data for their own business purposes without prior permission. Accenture suppliers recognize that any use, sharing or retention of personal data must be supported by, or based on, consent or a legitimate, compelling business purpose, and strictly in accordance with the contractual terms and conditions agreed with Accenture.

4.5 Comply with all applicable conflict minerals rules and laws
Accenture suppliers comply with all applicable conflict minerals rules and adopt policies and procedures that are reasonably designed to prevent products or parts that are not responsibly sourced from entering Accenture’s supply chain.

Accenture suppliers participate in Accenture’s due diligence efforts by (i) annually reporting to Accenture regarding 3TG minerals (tantalum, tin, tungsten and gold) being sourced for parts that are used in its products, (ii) cooperating with any inquiries or due diligence that Accenture chooses to perform with respect to the 3TG minerals used in its products and (iii) working with their own suppliers to identify the chain of custody of any 3TG minerals supplied and used in Accenture’s products (including the country of origin, smelter or refiner, mine location and status of any 3TG Minerals).

Respect for the Individual

Accenture suppliers value diversity, ensure an inclusive environment and treat people with respect and dignity.

5.1 Treat people with respect and dignity
Accenture suppliers support and respect internationally recognized human rights as expressed in the International Bill of Human Rights and the principles concerning fundamental rights set out in the International Labor Organization’s Declaration on Fundamental Principles and Rights at Work (links to these documents are set out in the Additional Information section below).
Accordingly, Accenture suppliers treat people with dignity and respect, and maintain a respectful and safe, inclusive and accessible workplace, physical and virtual. They do not tolerate physical violence, threats, corporal punishment, mental coercion, verbal abuse, disrespectful behavior, bullying or harassment of any kind (whether or not such harassment is legally prohibited on the basis of protected characteristics).

In addition, Accenture suppliers shall not place unreasonable restrictions on the freedom of movement of their workers.

5.2 Allow employees the freedom of association and collective bargaining
Accenture suppliers recognize and respect the right of their people to freely join or refrain from joining worker organizations of their choosing and entering into collective bargaining as permitted by law.

5.3 Do not use, encourage or engage in forced labor, human trafficking or harmful child labor
Accenture suppliers do not use, encourage or engage in human trafficking, slavery, servitude, forced, bonded, compulsory, indentured or involuntary labor. Employees of Accenture suppliers voluntarily agree to the terms and conditions of their employment without coercion, and can freely terminate their employment either (i) immediately without notice, or (ii) on reasonable notice (required notice periods are always set out in employment contracts and vary in relation to the seniority of the employee and the requirements of local laws).

In addition, where permitted by applicable local employment laws, Accenture suppliers may recover from an employee who terminates their employment within a defined period: (i) training expenses, (ii) payments made for retention purposes, and (iii) hiring bonuses or other variable compensation. Notwithstanding this, Accenture suppliers do not require employees to work a longer period than their contractual notice period in order for the Accenture supplier to recover such expenses, payments or bonuses.

Accenture suppliers do not use, encourage or engage in human trafficking. They do not, among other things: destroy, conceal, confiscate or otherwise deny employees’ access to identity or immigration documents; charge workers recruiting fees; employ recruiters that violate labor laws; provide housing that fails to meet safety or housing laws; use fraudulent or misleading recruitment practices; or fail to provide written work documents, where required, or provide documents in a language that their workers do not understand.
Accenture suppliers do not use, encourage or engage child labor. Child labor means labor that deprives children of their childhood, their potential and their dignity, and that is harmful to their physical or mental development. Many countries have a minimum age for employment or work — Accenture suppliers understand and respect those requirements. They do not employ people under the age for completing compulsory education. Accenture suppliers may operate workplace apprenticeship, work experience or internship programs that comply with applicable laws.

5.4 Comply with all applicable employment laws
Accenture suppliers comply with all applicable employment laws and regulations, including those around working time, overtime, and minimum wage requirements. In addition, Accenture strongly encourages all its suppliers whose people directly provide services to Accenture and/or its clients to commit to paying all such people a living wage, which will be higher than the legal minimum wage requirement and will take into account relevant actual living costs.

5.5 Provide a safe, healthy work environment
Accenture suppliers are committed to the health and safety of their people and of visitors to their work locations. Accenture suppliers comply with all applicable health and safety laws, provide a safe, healthy working environment and take the necessary precautions to protect everyone from workplace injuries and occupational disease.

Accenture suppliers take all necessary steps to prevent transmission of contagious disease. Accenture suppliers in direct contact with Accenture or Accenture’s clients comply with Accenture’s workplace hygiene standards and notification policies. They should inform Accenture as soon as they are aware that one of their workers may have worked with Accenture employees or clients while ill and/or while contagious and ensure that the person remains away until no longer contagious. In such an event or for additional guidance, Accenture suppliers can contact Accenture Security Operations Centre on +1.202.728.0645. ASOC is available 24 hours a day, seven days a week, 365 days a year (accepts collect calls).

5.6 Do not participate in inappropriate use of social media
Accenture suppliers do not tolerate disrespectful or unprofessional usage of social media (whether or not such usage relates to Accenture, its business, clients, employees or business partners) such as posting content that is abusive, malicious, obscene, threatening or intimidating, or that contains ethnic, religious, gender or other derogatory statements in any message or post.
Integrity

Accenture suppliers understand and comply with all applicable laws. Accenture suppliers inspire trust by taking responsibility, acting ethically and encouraging honest and open debate.

6.1 Do not offer inappropriate gifts or entertainment to Accenture employees or third parties
Accenture suppliers do not make bribes or any other improper payment directly or through a third party in the form of gifts or entertainment to Accenture employees, public officials, commercial clients, business partners and other third parties; and employees of Accenture suppliers do not accept gifts or entertainment from third parties that are, or could be perceived as, bribes.

6.2 Comply with all anti-corruption laws including the U.S. Foreign Corrupt Practices Act and U.K. Bribery Act 2010
Accenture is committed to conducting its business in an honest and ethical manner and has zero tolerance for corruption or any other activity that violates anticorruption laws in any place we conduct business. Accenture suppliers comply with all applicable anti-corruption laws and regulations, including the U.S. Foreign Corrupt Practices Act and the U.K. Bribery Act 2010.

In connection with doing business with or on behalf of Accenture, Accenture suppliers do not offer, promise, authorize, give, demand or accept any gift, loan, fee, reward or other advantage to or from any person as an inducement; to do something which is dishonest, illegal or a breach of trust; to obtain, retain or direct business; or to secure any other improper advantage. Under these standards, improper payments include offers, promises, authorizations or payments of anything of value to expedite routine government actions.

Accenture suppliers shall implement procedures to ensure its employees and suppliers comply fully with applicable anti-corruption laws and these standards.
Accenture’s information and audit rights in relation to these Standards of Conduct

7.1 Accenture may from time to time request certain information from Accenture suppliers in relation to their compliance with these Standards of Conduct in order that Accenture may fulfil its obligations with regard to monitoring, reporting and verification of its supply chain. Accenture suppliers shall comply with such requests in a full and timely manner.

7.2 Accenture may audit, at its own cost and expense, the Accenture supplier’s adherence to these Standards of Conduct in relation to the locations where, or from which, goods or services are provided to Accenture. Such audits may be conducted during normal business hours once annually, and Accenture will provide at least 60 days prior written notice of its intention to conduct such an audit. Accenture will conduct such audits in a manner that will result in minimal disruption to the Accenture supplier’s business and HR operations. Accenture’s employees or independent representatives (who must not be competitors of the Accenture supplier) will execute appropriate confidentiality agreements prior to such audit.

For the purposes of this audit, the Accenture supplier will provide Accenture’s employees and independent representatives with reasonable access to relevant information about the Accenture supplier’s policies and procedures. Unless otherwise agreed in writing, Accenture will not be entitled to audit other confidential information of the Accenture supplier, including: (a) information about other clients or business partners of the Accenture supplier; (b) cost or pricing information; (c) internal employee surveys or survey results; (d) employee demographic information; (e) information about grievances or legal claims; (f) legally privileged advice; or (g) non-public personal data relating to employees (including individual training records).

7.3 Accenture shall notify the Accenture supplier if any matters of concern are identified by its audit and/or information provided by it, and authorised officers of Accenture supplier meet with Accenture to discuss such concerns within 10 business days of notice where the concern identified is material in nature.
Violation of these Standards of Conduct or applicable laws

8.1 Failure to comply with these Standards of Conduct or with applicable laws will entitle Accenture to immediately terminate the Accenture supplier as a supplier to Accenture and/or to disclose the matter to appropriate authorities, regulators and/or law enforcement bodies. If permitted by applicable law, Accenture will inform the Accenture supplier of the matter and give the Accenture supplier a reasonable opportunity to respond, before Accenture discloses the matter to the relevant authority, regulator or law enforcement body.

8.2 Accenture suppliers encourage a culture of transparency within their organization and supply chain and encourage employees to speak up with legal and ethical concerns, both through line management channels and/or formal reporting channels. Accenture suppliers must report suspected violations of these standards by the Accenture supplier (or by its own employees, contractors, subcontractors or suppliers). Accenture suppliers must also report any specific issue of which they become aware regarding Accenture’s financial affairs, accounting practices, auditing matters, corruption or fraud, or any behavior by Accenture employees which is inconsistent with the standards set out in this Code.

8.3 Such reports must be made to the Accenture Business Ethics Helpline, where you may report your good faith concern via the web or obtain country-specific phone number to speak with an agent 24 hours a day, seven days a week: https://businessethicsline.com/accenture. In most cases, you may remain anonymous when using the Accenture Business Ethics Helpline; however, in certain countries this may not be the case due to local legal restrictions.

Accenture suppliers must prohibit any retaliation against any Accenture supplier employee who: (1) comes forward to raise, in good faith, a concern about a violation of any law and/or any violation of these Standards of Conduct; or (2) assists Accenture, or a law enforcement authority, by providing information to address a concern. In these Standards, “retaliation” means unfair treatment of any kind that follows from the raising of a good faith concern (or any threat of such unfair treatment).

8.4 Subject always to Accenture’s disclosure rights in section 8.1, Accenture treats all allegations seriously and in strict confidence. Depending on the nature and circumstances of the allegation, Accenture may seek to work – if and when appropriate – with the Accenture supplier and other affected parties in order to reach a proper and timely resolution.

8.5 Additionally, Accenture suppliers in the United States may report concerns relating to human trafficking to the Global Human Trafficking Hotline at 1-844-888-FREE (3733) or at help@befree.org.
