How to Strategize for Security on Cloud Video Transcript

Speaker: Rudy Bakalov
Accenture Security Executive

The threats are increasing. There isn't really a one size fits all security solution. We have to be much smarter than that.

We need to think about securing social media; we need to think about securing mobility, the internet of things.

A holistic solution that does makes sense is really focused on peoples' Identities, focused on their devices, focused on the data that we're trying to secure.

When we work smart, and when we look at the risks facing the entire organization, we can certainly make the cloud more secure than traditional IT.
